*demista*TM LAUNCHES SHORT FILM

A short full-colour video has been launched by R & D Marketing about *demista*TM the original British-made heated mirror pads. Bathrooms are often the first rooms in the house needing a facelift, whether it is new tiles, flooring, bathroom fittings or just a change of décor. So what better time to consider installing in the bathroom or shower *demista*TM mirror pads to ensure a clear and steam free view all the time.

This clever new video not only explains what low-energy *demista*TM is and what it does, it also shows step-by-easy-step how to install it.

*demista*TM heated mirror pads are sold worldwide, for homes and apartments, both new developments and refurbishments, as well as to many of the well known large international hotel groups and luxury independent establishments. These easy to install pads are available in a variety of sizes, and can also be used in multiples or custom-made to cover very large mirrored areas.

Ideal for showroom demonstration the new video can be downloaded at
